Good News For the Farmers!

Due to a fortunate purchase of Tobacco Canvas since the settlement of the strike in the cotton mills at Lowell, Mass., we are able to offer Tobacco Canvas at same price as obtained in the Spring of 1903, when we set the mark for low prices for Canvas in this section. Buying direct from the mills--saving all middle men's profits, we have shaved our own profits to a mere fraction--and throw out 150,000 yards at 1c for fair quality,

1c for good quality,
1 1-2c extra good quality,
3c for fine quality,
3 1-3c for very best quality.

TIE PASS IS GAINED BY CZAR'S TROOPS

Kuropatkin Battles With Foe Twenty-five Miles From Refuge.

Losses in Mukden Estimated At 184,000 On Both Sides.

The dispatches received at St. Petersburg indicate that Gen. Kuropatkin has saved himself from the trap set for him by Field Marshal Oyama. According to these dispatches he is falling back slowly with the main portion of his forces intact, and fighting a rear guard action. On Saturday afternoon he was twenty-five miles from Tie Pass. A part of his forces have already reached Tie Pass, but whether any of the units of his army were cut off or captured is not definitely known. The press dispatches say that the Japanese separated the First and Fourth Russian corps and the inference is that they either were killed or captured, as the censor allowed no further reference to their fate. The losses have been enormous on both sides and are roughly estimated at 200,000. An unofficial report from St. Petersburg says Kuropatkin has lost 60,000 prisoners. The confidence of the Japanese is indicated in a statement by Field Marshal Oyama that his forces will pursue the Russian to Harbin. An element of possible danger to Kuropatkin is the army of Gen. Kawamura, which is supposed to be somewhere on the line of his retreat to the north. Its location, however, is not definitely known.

Battle of Mukden.

Latest estimates as to the number of men engaged in the battle of Mukden give Oyama 450,000 and Kuropatkin 315,000. In regard to the force in command of the various generals, the following is believed to be approximately correct:

Japanese.....	Russian.....
Nogi.....	60,000 Kaulbars.....
Oku.....	125,000 Bildering.....
Nozu.....	75,000 Linievitch.....
Kuroki.....	100,000 Remenckampf.....
	60,000

The generals named, in the alignment, opposed one another, but Bildering's command practically was the rear guard of Kaulbars' forces.

Dispatches indicate a material increase in the losses, as the fighting continues, the Russians being the greater sufferers. The casualties are now figured at,

Japanese.....	50,000
Russians.....	75,000

Prisoners taken by Japanese..... 60,000

The munitions and supplies captured by Marshal Oyama's forces are valued at millions of dollars.

Judge Bloomfield.

Paducah, Ky., March 11.—Judge J. W. Bloomfield, one of the oldest and most prominent jurists in the state, is in a dying condition at his home in Paducah. He has been in feeble health for many months, but had been bedridden but a few weeks.

ENGINEERS ARE SURVEYING A NEW LINE

Hopkinsville May Be Left High and Dry a Mile From Depot.

WORK TO BEGIN SOON.

Corps Of Surveyors Now Here to Decide a Great Question.

All the large hills on the Henderson division of the L. & N. railroad from Empire, this county, to the Tennessee line at Guthrie, will be cut down for the purpose of facilitating traffic, both freight and passenger. A corps of engineers arrived Saturday and will operate from this city on the 41 miles to be affected. This work has been under consideration for several years and two years ago preliminary surveys were made, about which the Kentuckian gave a report at the time. There are two plans, one involving a change of the roadbed at this city and at Crofton, to escape hills, and the other requiring the grades to be lowered and heavy cuts made. The engineers here are to decide definitely and first of all what will be done at this place. A new survey was made two miles east of town, which if adopted would leave Hopkinsville some distance from the depot. This matter is the real cause for delay in the construction of the new freight depot on the old site on Ninth street. A similar detour would be made at Caudron if the line is changed here, but unless both changes are made it is not likely that either will be. The other plan of lowering the existing grades would involve much cutting and call for changing many grade crossings.

The trains from the South would enter the city in a very deep cut, much deeper than the one now existing, which is deep enough to hold the trains. The crossing at Walnut street would run over the railroad tracks.

The contract has already been let for the construction of the line from Guthrie, Ky., to Greenbrier, Tenn., a distance of twenty-five miles, to J. E. Rodes and E. A. Wilson, of Knoxville. The rebuilding of this portion of the road is for the purpose of cutting down grades. The contract includes the construction of new bridges across Red River and Sulphur Fork. About one year's time will be required to complete the work, which will be expensive and in some places of a difficult nature.

There will be a considerable cut to make between here and Guthrie, near Trenton. The survey now going on here will be awaited with keen interest, as it will decide the question of much importance to Hopkinsville and Crofton, whether the depot is to be in town or a mile or two away. Hopkinsville had a contract regarding the location of the depot in 1868 when the road was built and a violation of this contract would mean the removal of the depot to a point outside the city a very expensive matter to the railroad.

In fact the proposition to move the line has not been taken seriously, but in a matter involving hundreds of thousands of dollars, it is not improbable that we may have our money like Paducah, with a depot two miles from town. This would make a street railway system at once an absolute necessity.

The strongest factor in favor of a depot close to the city's business is that the I. C. people are right in town and the L. & N. would necessarily lose much prestige by moving outside of the city limits and giving its rival such a decided advantage.

WILL CONTINUE TO BITTER END SAYS THE CZAR

Nicholas Not Yet Ready to Consider Terms For Peace.

NAVY ORDERED BACK.

Another Army Will go to the Front and a New General be Named.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 13. The Japanese have temporarily ceased pursuit at Tie Pass.

The Russian army, demoralized and exhausted, its rear guard constantly attacked by the pursuing and never resting Japanese, is nearing Tie Pass, but it begins to look as if Kuropatkin will make stand there. He has lost many of his guns, thousands of his rifles, tons of ammunition and supplies, and perhaps 150,000 of his men. He admits 47,581 missing, but makes no report of his great number of wounded. The Japanese have made prisoners of 40,000 of his men, and report that 26,500 others are dead on the field. The Japanese loss is 60,000, Oyama already officially reporting 41,222. In the face of this story of carnage, the Czar announces that he will fight on. Kuropatkin is to be succeeded, a new and larger army will be raised, and Admiral Rojestvensky will be ordered to proceed against Admiral Togo. Russia's hope is to break Japan by keeping it at until the money of the Island kingdom gives out.

In the present temper of Emperor Nicholas and his dominant advisers, voiced in a firm official announcement that the position of Russia is unchanged and that the initiative for peace can only come from Japan. Should the island empire choose to tender "moderate" terms and recognize its adversary as the Power in the Far East, peace could be easily arranged, but the voice of her diplomacy in various parts of the world indicates that she is not ready to do this, and the Russian Government, with the full magnitude of the disaster at Mukden still undetermined, but with the 1905 campaign seemingly already hopelessly compromised, retreat to Harbin inevitable, and Vladivostok practically lost, declares that the time has not yet come when Russia can be forced to humble herself.

Two New Army Corps.

It is reported that the dispatch of two new army corps including the Fourteenth, from Poland, and several smaller units, has already been determined upon, and that plans for further mobilization are under discussion.

But while this is the official attitude, nothing but peace talk is heard in St. Petersburg. The difficulties of another mobilization on a large scale will be enormous; in fact, it is stated in some quarters that it will be impossible. Nevertheless it might be accomplished. The real hope, however, for anything like a successful termination of the war is admitted to rest upon the prospects of the financial exhaustion of Japan. Russian resources, it is figured, can stand the drain better than those of Japan, and a protracted campaign, it is hoped, will bring about Japan's financial ruin.

DEFENDS SLAUGHTER

GRAND DUKE SAYS MAN ACROSS WAS NECESSARY.

In an Interview Vladimir Brants St. Petersburg, Russia, as Needed Precaution to Save City from the Mob.

St. Petersburg—Grand Duke Vladimir, uncle of Emperor Nicholas and commander-in-chief of Imperial forces, gave an interview to the correspondent at the duke's palace in Chay de La Cour, adjoining the winter palace. The correspondent was received in the grand duke's private study.

The duke wore a simple blue undress blouse over a uniform jacket. Gold epaulettes on the collar had been suddenly lowered and the spacious apartment contracted to the limits of a tent and the big mahogany desk converted into a camp table, the grand duke would have presented the picture of a hard working general on a field of battle. Everything about the apartment, with reports heaped up on the table before him, bespoke the man of work. The study might well be mistaken for an office of some busy American railway manager.

The grand duke is a man of perhaps 40 years, tall, powerfully built, and was, in fact, for he won his spurs and the Cross of St. George 25 years ago in the plains before Pleven. He is big-framed and dark-visaged and has iron gray hair, and resembles more his brother, Alexander III., than his nephew, Emperor Nicholas. Although his face is framed in marks of responsibility, the nervous energy he displays gives the impression of a man of force and action. His stern features soften as he talks, leading to his countenance a charm suggesting the singularly gentle side to his nature which masked him beloved by everyone and亲爱 to family and friends.

"You must remember," said the grand duke, "I am a grand duke, and a subject of the emperor. As such I am extremely loyal to him, and I am Russian from the crown of my head to the tip of my toes," accompanying the words with a sweeping gesture. "What information can I give you?"

"The newspapers abroad," suggested

GRAND DUKE VLADIMIR
(Notable Who Defends the Slaughter in St. Petersburg)

ed the correspondent, "have made many statements regarding the events concerning that massacre."

I know of no real accounts in the foreign press, but I have stood aghast at the frightful stories of the butchery of innocent people which they have printed. I know they say well-intentioned patriots with a priest at their head compassed especially to place their grievances before all the world, and were recently shot down in the streets; but we know that behind this peaceful procession was an anarchistic and socialist plot of which the overwhelming majority of the workers were merely innocent spectators. We know that the leaders of the mob, kindred and those arrested that some alleged priests were actually revolutionary agitators and students in disguise. We had to save the city from a mob. Unfortunately, to do so innocent and guilty suffered alike. But we were compelled to shoot down the guard at the winter palace, which we have sacked as the mob sacked Versailles. From the palace they would have gone elsewhere, and the whole city would have been delivered over to anarchy, riot, bloodshed and flame. Our duty was the duty of every government. The same situation has confronted cities in other countries."

"Oysters" a London Fad.—"The Oysters" is the latest society nickname, and is given to the members of the Ladies' Athenaeum club which is ruled over by the duchess of Leeds, the duchess of Marlborough, Mrs. George West and Mrs. Craigie. They have determined to make their club the secret entertainment place of the cream of fashionable society, and to confine the members there entirely.

A few friends at the Carlton or the Savoy the fact is at once made public in the newspapers, so they have decided to make the Ladies' Athenaeum club famous as a place of seclusion.

Clarksville, Tennessee, January 3rd, 1905.—This crop of tobacco, being of better quality and shorter in average yield, are two reasons for expecting better prices. Besides, full confidence as to the final outcome, may be based upon the wise conclusion of the farmer to prize and put his tobacco in condition to hold for the best demands, only to be found on the open markets. The force of combines, who have ignored open markets in order to fix lower prices in the country is broken, and we predict an era of greater prosperity will come. The tobacco farmers will not regret the move they have made, and the more competent their organization, the greater their influence.

As we have done for the many years past, we solicit the patronage of farmers. As heretofore, our best efforts in their behalf can safely be relied upon. Our warehouse is open day and night, and provided with good, comfortable free quarters for teams and teamsters under the same roof.

THE RETURN OF THE PRODIGAL

BY GEORGE BARTLEY

A tall, tanned man, deeply bronzed, sat in a crooked chair, showing at the tam at the corners of his eyes, his forehead white when he pushed back his soft felt hat, leaning back in a rail of a small, ancient steamer that made a short trip between Bar Harbor and Jonesport twice and thrice a week.

The man seemed somehow out of place among the storekeepers and small tradesmen, who had brought babies, hot-tubs, and biscuits, and were having a picnic.

The little steamer kept close in shore after leaving the harbor, and the man looked up at the giant red cliffs, their summit crowded with crisp salt grass, as if every landmark was familiar.

His hand was brown and shrewd, like him, making the cigar so well he dropped overboard as the tiny craft came in sight of Bar Harbor.

There is no pier there; the levathan craft only stops there when ordered. To get ashore the boat gently nosed the shingle and passengers ignominiously "walked" across the deck.

The man, looking shorewards, took out a fresh cigar, and as it would not light, he held it in his hand, looking still shorewards, and his hand—essentially the hand of a worker—trembled.

A rent in the cliff cuts Bar Harbor in two.

Looking up from the sea one sees houses on either side of the fissure; a square towered stone church crowning all.

As has been said, there is no pier or landing stage, and bare legged little children were rolling about on dry colored nets spread out on dry sand.

There was no sense of awe or reverence as the man spoke the words, and his keen gray eyes were moist—not a speck of change—not a speck!

No railway apparently, no pier, no anything, after 20 years! And I've come 12,000 miles to see you and I find you just as I left you—old, old, body that has grown old, not my heart."

"Do you get off here, sir?"

"Yes, purser, and look out for me on my way back. What a quaint old place this seems to be!"

The purser laughed.

"I thought you'd never come back, that no one ever died here and no change has taken place for 50 years or more."

"Ah, it's different on my side; I'm from the other side of the world."

Herbert Seaton walked the plank, the only passenger to alight, leaving buns and babies behind him, and carrying his grip, he went up the main street, looking about him, from end to end.

The names on the few stores were familiar to him. He nodded and gave "Good day!" to an old lady sunning herself upon the doorstep, who returned his greeting with a sign of recognition.

"The world has changed, giving place to the new."

And God fulfills himself in many ways," he quoted and walked on, grip in hand, his eyes glancing hither and thither.

Behind the coast guard's cottage is a small square. You enter it from the main street by a narrow passage that looks like a cul-de-sac, but it opens out into a tiny quadrangle, where the sound of the sea scarcely penetrates.

The houses—all of one pattern—are white washed and tiled, with green shutters and the rust from the hinges has stained them almost red in patches.

And the man, who had been alone on the road that led him here, the green shutters, the hall mark of respectability, hung awry, and their hinges were rusted. He turned to the next house and knocked at the door.

At the house of his quest the front door was open to fro.

"Come in, come in where Mrs. Haygarth has been told to."

"I have never heard the name, sir."

"Did not Mrs. Haygarth—her name was Radford before her marriage—come here to live on her wedding day?"

"That is long before my time, sir. But the broker, I have heard, was killed on his wedding day."

"Give me the address of these Margaret Radfords, I've been 'clean away' for many years."

The Yankee speech slipped back to the man's tongue, and the young woman laughed, for at first the man spoke with the twang of a foreigner.

"Well," she said, the laugh still upon her lips, "you know who's gone along away." Margaret, whose alarm clock was the schubie mistress—her what bites few speakable."

"What a bonny maid! Is that yours? There, mite!"

He had not yet even touched her hand. He had drawn nearer.

"What did you tell little Bob Carey you would do when the prodigal returned?"

He spoke in a tone of banter to hide the deep feeling that moved him, but he held out his arms, and his love flew into them, and he raised kisses upon lip, cheek and brow.

"My love—my love!" was all he could utter out, after a silence of 20 years.

And she, too, lay silent in his strong arms, thinking many thoughts, that shaped themselves into a prayer of thankfulness.

"Why, you never leave me, dear one," she said.

"Your father told me that you were engaged to Haygarth, and he was richer than I. He even showed me the house you were to live in when you married."

"And you believed him—How could you—how could you? To go away without a word!"

Her eyes had filled with tears again and he took her once more to his heart.

Chicago Tribune.

hedges 20 feet high, up the steep red path he made his way, and at the end stood the schoolhouse, facing the sea. He stood outside for some minutes brushing perspiration from his forehead.

It was a tiny climb, after all is said and done, but he攀ed painfully and drank in the air from the sea.

Then he peered between the serrated ranks of fuchsias and myrtle that stood on the broad window sill, and he saw a beautiful woman, of nearly his own age, a woman whom he had seen a dozen times, a woman who was the same thing, can talk and teach from the book of books.

The man seemed somehow out of place among the storekeepers and small tradesmen, who had brought babies, hot-tubs, and biscuits, and were having a picnic.

The little steamer kept close in shore after leaving the harbor, and the man looked up at the giant red cliffs, their summit crowded with crisp salt grass, as if every landmark was familiar.

His hand was brown and shrewd, like him, making the cigar so well he dropped overboard as the tiny craft came in sight of Bar Harbor.

There is no pier there; the levathan craft only stops there when ordered. To get ashore the boat gently nosed the shingle and passengers ignominiously "walked" across the deck.

The man, looking shorewards, took out a fresh cigar, and as it would not light, he held it in his hand, looking still shorewards, and his hand—essentially the hand of a worker—trembled.

A small man and woman kind were round her, knew, from tiny tots to girls of 13, and she was talking and teaching and laughing with them, and a good woman, which is the same thing, can talk and teach from the book of books.

Then he peered between the serrated

Dark Tobacco Planters.

W. H. Jesup & Co., with the Cooper and Hooper packing houses, have made a contract with the Dark Tobacco Association to prize tobacco for the farmers. Having employed the most competent men to class and grade, we will endeavor to prize your tobacco to the best advantage, and we take this plan of soliciting your patronage. Remember, good prices are dependent upon tobacco being properly handled. Assort your tobacco carefully as to length and color, separate the lugs from the leaf, let the long and short be carefully separated and do not put different colors in the same bundle. Put it in good keeping order. Stick to your organization, tell your neighbors about it, send us your tobacco to prize and you will realize much better prices than you have for many years past. Liberal advances on tobacco in store.

Respectfully,

The Weather.

Washington, D. C. March 13.—
Kentucky—Generally fair and moderately cool Tuesday.

The Senate is expected to ratify the Santo Domingo treaty Friday.

Osama is sixty years old and Oster will probably be willing to make an exception in his case.

The Nevada Legislature has modified the bill regulating gambling, and the "idol will be off" hereafter in that state.

The body of Senator W. B. Bate, of Tennessee, who died last week, was interred at Nashville yesterday afternoon, after lying in state in the capitol.

The first fatality of the baseball season is reported from Huntsville, Ala. Overcome by the sun in a baseball game Friday, John Hilton, a well-known young man of East Huntsville, died the next day.

In Chicago last week 26 divorces were granted and 29 new suites were filed. A part of this trouble is said to be due to the many early marriages. In two years there have been 301 girls under 18 years old married in Chicago.

The mine operators of Western Kentucky met in Louisville last night preparatory to the conference with the miners regarding the wage scale for next year. It is probable that they will reject the demand made by the miners for the 1903 scale, but that an amicable agreement will be reached.

The Legislature of Tennessee, still in session, will fill the senatorial vacancy before adjournment. At present it seems to be Gov. Frazier against the field. Friends of former Govs. Benton McMillin and Robert L. Taylor are advising them not to contest the election to the vacancy with Frazier, but they have not signified any intention of staying out of a contest.

Kuropatkin's retreat to Tie Pass, forty miles to the north, was a defeat of course but the movement seems to have been made in an orderly manner. The story of a panic-stricken flight sent out from Tokio was not borne out by the facts. Kuropatkin himself remained behind with the rear guard, which is greatly to his credit, however severely he may be criticised for allowing himself to be out-generalled.

The Senate committee is so slow about making a report on the appointment of the negro lawyer Anderson to the chairmanship in New York that there is talk of a "hold-up" in his case. The New York Senators, while not pleased, are acquiescent, but certain Western members are said to be stirring up opposition to his confirmation. The negro is known as the "Colored Demosthenes." He is a light mulatto.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

The Calloway County Committee Saturday removed L. A. L. Langston as chairman by a vote of 5 to 3 and elected Jas. H. Coleman in his stead, upon the ground that Langston is a candidate for office and ineligible. This action has an important bearing on the approaching senatorial race and has been followed by the announcement that Conn Limm will be Calloway's candidate for Senator. A Murray disputed says:

"Mr. Limm is a warm supporter of Senator Blackburn and will be a strong factor in the race, and his friends here think that he can win the nomination."

Calloway county claims the right to name a successor to Senator Gilbert, as he had not served out his time.

A senatorial convention will be called within the next few weeks to meet at Murray, and there will be several candidates in the race.

The Third senatorial district is composed of Calloway, Livingston, Lyon and Trigg counties."

Stockholders Meet and Elect a Directory Next Saturday.

CAPITAL, $15,000.

Committee Appointed to Look After Building Preparation at Once.

Stockholders of the Hopkinsville Canning Company met at Moayon's Hall Saturday and organized for the canning factory. The company was organized with $15,000 and the following directors elected:

W. T. Fowler, T. W. Blakey, W. T. Williamson, Ward Claggett and W. R. Brumfield.

A building committee to inspect the machinery, building, etc., was appointed as follows: W. T. Fowler, W. R. Brumfield, W. T. Williamson, John J. Metcalfe and James West.

Articles of incorporation will be filed as soon as possible and a general manager will be chosen as soon as the company is on a legal basis. Judge W. T. Fowler will probably be President of the company. Many farmers have already agreed to grow fruits and vegetables for the factory.

HARGIS GANG UP AGAINST REAL THING.

Court of Appeals Sends Them To Fayette County for Trial.

OPINION IS UNANIMOUS.

Action of Magistrate Edwards Held to be a Subterfuge and Void.

The Court of Appeals refused to grant the writ of prohibition asked by the Hargis brothers and others to restrain Judge Watis Parker, of the Fayette Circuit Court, from assuming jurisdiction of the trial of their cases for alleged complicity in the assassination of James Cockrell at Jackson. This sends the cases to the Fayette Circuit Court for trial. The court held that the warrants issued by Magistrate Edwards at Jackson for the arrest of the accused were "procured upon their own investigation, or that of some of them acting for all, with the design not to have a trial of the charge or elsewhere, but as a cloak to prevent the trial elsewhere." The proceedings before magistrate Edwards were therefore declared void. The opinion of the court was delivered by Judge O'Rear, none of the Judges dissenting.

The Hargis brothers and Ed Callahan submitted to arrest Saturday at Jackson and were taken to Lexington yesterday. The question of bail has not been passed on yet by Judge Parker.

INTERESTING PAPER

Read by Mrs. W. Williams, of Church Hill.

The Daughters of the Confederacy met in regular meeting Saturday afternoon at Hotel Latham and the meeting was a very pleasant one. Mrs. Dr. W. Williams, of Church Hill, read a most interesting paper on the "Formation of Companies in Christian County." Mrs. C. G. Duke read a letter published in the "Partisan Rangers" describing the experience of Dr. W. Williams as a prisoner of war at Camp Douglas.

The hour of meeting was changed to 3 p.m. The next meeting will be April 8.

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

HOPTOWN IN "KITTY" FOR 1905.

Money Put Up And All Doubts Entirely Removed.

BACKING ONLY LACKING

Citizens Must Do Their Part Or Franchise Will Be Sold.

The Kitty league magnates met in Paducah Sunday to complete arrangements for the season's struggle. The most important business was the selection of the schedule for the playing season.

The meeting was called by President Charles Brown and the following representatives were present: Floyd J. Biggs, Princeton, vice president; W. C. Greaney, Cairo, secretary, and C. C. Gosnell, Vincennes, treasurer. W. M. Hancock, Hopkinsville; Jacob Zimbro and Wallace C. Dyer, of Henderson; Dick Powers, Guy Eichenberger, of Cairo.

All of the clubs put up their money forfeit, $215 each, including the League dues.

Hopkinsville, Henderson and Princeton were elected Directors.

The schedule begins May 4 and ends September 12, 133 games.

Hopkinsville goes to Cairo and Paducah first and the first games here will be with Henderson the second week in May.

The meeting was very pleasant and harmonious.

President Hancock was offered Dummy Hughes and $50 for Jess Moore by Cairo, but refused the offer.

Hopkinsville is to get $90 in cash for mileage excess at the end of the season.

The local directory is to be reorganized at once as several of the old directors desire to retire. A meeting will probably be held to-night to talk over the situation.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their discussions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Bennett, Hopkinsville, S. C., says: "For years my wife has suffered from dyspepsia, complicated with a tumor of the ovaries, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." R. C. Hardwick, druggist, sells and guarantees them at 50¢ a bottle.

NOTHING ELSE

That can Take its Place In Imagination of Christian People.

When advertising "The Holy City," Gordon & Bennett do not announce, "trains of cars and tons of scenery." They assume the public interest to be centered on that which is placed on the stage, its transporting necessities and weight being of little matter. Yet in every theatre occupied by "The Holy City" Co., the stage first cleared of everything the house uses and the paraphernalia of the play furnishes the scenes so extraordinarily beautiful and so universally extolled. The large company seeks its hotels and no band or parade is given, the theatre is prepared without ostentatious labor, but the audience finds that night brings such demonstrations of sumptuous preparation as is rarely witnessed. "The play is the thing," quotes general manager Gordon, and his plays are the thing. The coming of "The Holy City" is eagerly anticipated. Confidence and good will champion it. This play will be presented at Holland's Opera House, Wednesday night, March 15.

GUILTY AS CHARGED

Mrs. Chadwick Faces a Long Term in Prison.

Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was convicted at Cleveland on seven counts of conspiracy to defraud the United States by conspiring to procure the certification of checks on a national bank when there were no funds in the bank to her credit. The extreme penalty fixed by law is a fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years on each count.

The jury was but two hours in reaching a verdict. When Mrs. Chadwick grasped the meaning of it she sank into her chair. Later she had an attack of hysteria, which lasted fifteen minutes. The woman's attorney made a motion for a new trial. Judge Taylor announced that later he would set a day for argument on the motion.

RICH MAN

But Would Rather Be an Umpire Than a Spectator.

Memphis, Tenn., March 18. Besides being poor, the richest in financial wealth of all baseball umpires North, East, South or West, Frank H. Bassett of Hopkinsville, Ky., and personal appointment on President Kavanaugh's cabinet in the Southern League, is thought to be the only man in the baseball world who would rather umpire a game than witness it from the choicest position of vantage in the grand stand.

Bassett is a native Kentuckian, being reared in Louisville, catching baseball fever first on the lots of the Falls City. He has made Hopkinsville his home for 15 years, traveling for a large wholesale house, whose headquarters are elsewhere.

Recently, on the death of his father-in-law, Bassett was threatened with a call from duties in connection with managing a vast estate which would enforce his retirement from diamond dictatorship, but he announced that he will report to President Kavanaugh as per contract, and will begin the 1905 season with indicator in hand.

Bassett ruled in the Cotton States League last year, and satisfied fans in the six-club organization. He owns extensive business interests in Oklahoma City and is past Exalted Ruler of the Hopkinsville Elks Lodge. He loves to umpire, and, in fact, resigned from the management of a team where he played and managed to rule in the champion ship league clashes.

Bassett's associates in the Southern League this year will be W. B. Carpenter, Joe (Calippe) Burke, Daniel Fenninger and R. W. Black, these names being furnished as official by A. C. Miller, secretary to President Kavanaugh.

SI PLUNKARD

At the Opera House Next Thursday Night.

The original Yankee comedy in which Mr. J. C. Lewis appears as Si Plunkard, will be at the Opera House Mar. 16. This is the twelfth annual tour of this famous play and this season the comedy has been put forward with all new features, introducing a full working threshing machine, and many other catchy novelties. Si Plunkard has been entirely re-written and re-constructed for the present season, presenting all new features and up-to-date novelties, and will be produced by a strong and efficient cast of comedy artists in an entirely new and novel line of specialties. During the action of the comedy the superb orchestra, carried by the company, will render the latest overtures between each act.

Women as Well as Men Are Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble prevails when the mind, discourses and loses its natural beauty, soon disappears when the kidneys are at rest or otherwise.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent among children that a child is born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child continues to grow, the scales of the flesh, or, if when the child reaches the age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, dependent upon the cause of the disease, kidney trouble, the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the body as well as a specific purpose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great relief.

The hill and the mountain effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. You can buy it in a small bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp Root, including many of the thousands of testimonies of those who have been successfully cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Washington Boy's Punishment for Writing a Sentence.

Reginald Hodgson, formerly of Virginia, a member of the Washington high school, was asked about two weeks ago by his teacher to illustrate the meaning of the word "debate." Hodgson promptly wrote on the blackboard: "Roosevelt debased himself by eating with a nigger." Whereupon he was suspended from school, and a veritable tempest is raging in the District Board of Education over his re-instatement. He was not allowed to parade with the high school cadets inauguration day.

Life Guards.

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, and allies in the very elements, as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember, the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

ON FRIDAY

Handsome Flag Presented to Virginia Street School.

Nowhere will you find such generosity as has been shown by the children of the Virginia St. School, ever since it has been a school.

On Friday morning we had another demonstration, not only of their generosity but of their patriotism as well. Miss Alice Lander, the teacher of the Fourth Grade, and her pupils presented a handsome flag to the Virginia Street School.

As future citizens of the town we anticipate for them everything that is loyal, and everything that goes to make up the highest type of citizenship.

Mr. Ford Wilkinson, in presenting the flag for his teachers and classmates, spoke as follows:

"I represent the Fourth Grade, which has the honor of presenting this flag to the Virginia Street School.

This flag of our country is our inspiration. It kindles in our hearts patriotic feelings, it carries our thoughts and our minds forward in the cause of liberty and right.

On sea and on land, wherever the star spangled banner waves, it thrills the heart of every American with pride.

"Tis the star spangled banner, oh, long may it wave, O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave."

On behalf of the teachers and pupils of the school, Mr. Ben McReynolds, president of the Washington Irving Society, replied:

"It is with pleasure that I attempt to give expression to the sincere appreciation and gratitude we feel in the bestowal upon us of this glorious emblem by our fellow students. It is an evidence of good will, comradeship and fraternity, and the feeling of good fellowship that already exists among us students in our respective rooms, cannot but be increased and made more enduring by it.

It will be a daily inspiration to us as we pass under its broad, beautiful folds and consider all of the fame, heroism, honor and achievement that it represents.

When given its emblematic conception in the mind of a man, and wrought into a form of artistic beauty by a woman, and its sinuous stripes were first flung to the breezes of Heaven, it seemed that its first fluttering breath would be its dying gasp and the brightness of its stars only a fitful glimmer in the memory. But happily for us that first breath was the initial respiration of a giant and those few trembling stars have become the brightest galaxy in the firmament of nations. Less than a century ago a flag that was insulted with impunity by the cheap little monarch of a barbarous country but today an emblem with which only tempests sent from God himself dare to trifle.

How can we resist a thrill of pride in this, which is a personal heritage to each of us, when we think of all it stands for; civil and religious liberty, freedom of speech, progress, enlightenment, education and the highest and broadest civilization known to the world today.

Will it not spur us on to more strenuous efforts in our work when we reflect on these things and realize that all this is the result of individual citizenship and that it is for the possibilities—or even more—the obligations of this citizenship, that we are preparing ourselves? I think that we are, and that we are grateful, not merely for the gift itself and the kind feeling which prompted its donation, but also that such a happy and appropriate selection should have been made.

It is with great pleasure that I again say that we are deeply appreciative of these things and on behalf of the teachers and pupils of the Virginia Street School, I extend to you our heartiest and most sincere thanks.

His Slayer Will Have Examining Trial at Once.

Walter Hanks, who was shot by Marion Allen at White Plains on March 4, died from the effects of the wound. Allen had been under guard awaiting the result of the injury and will have his examining trial at once. Before dying Hanks made a statement before a notary public, in writing, to the effect that he was shot without cause.

A primary election will be held in Louisville April 25, to nominate a Democratic ticket.

Good Health to the Children

Children especially are fond of dainties, and the housekeeper must look carefully to their food.

As good cake can be made only with good eggs, so also a cake that is healthful as well as dainty must be raised with a pure and perfect baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

GRACEY GLEANINGS.

Spring School Began Yesterday—Skating Fever Breaks Out.

Gracey, Ky., March 15.—Rev. J. N. Strother preached at West Union Baptist church yesterday. He announced that he would begin a protracted meeting at Cadiz next Sunday, assisted by Rev. Mr. Acree, of Clarksville.

Mrs. Cornelia Chambers Libby will begin a spring subscription school to-day at the school house here. There has been some rivalry here and it was announced that Miss Witt, who lately taught the district school, would also begin one at the Presbyterian church, but this plan has been changed and Miss Witty's school has not yet begun.

Mr. R. W. Roach, who lives near here in Trigg County, is a candidate for representative against Editor Henry Lawrence. Mr. Bridges, in another part of the county, is also in the triangular contest, which is growing exciting. The primary comes off April 1.

The roller skating fever has broken out afresh here and especially is patronizing the skating rink.

Mr. E. T. Libby, who has lately returned from Missouri, will shortly go to South Carolina to locate a railroad stone crusher.

LITTLE ONE ONE SOLID SORE

Covered With Scales and Scabs From Head to Foot—Doctors and All Other Remedies Fail—Skin Now Smooth and Clear.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

Writing under date of Sept. 7, 1904, Mrs. Mattie Shaffer, of Cumberland, Miss., says: "Some time ago I ordered and received your wonderful Cuticura Remedies, which I used on my little afflicted baby with wonderful results. I had tried all other remedies without any benefit whatever, and Cuticura came to the rescue when my doctor and all other remedies had failed. One doctor pronounced it incurable, though it seemed to be a bad case. The little one was one solid sore, with scales and scabs from head to foot, when I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the results were wonderful, and now my baby's face and body are smooth and clear." (Signed) Mrs. Mattie Shaffer.

THE DUTY OF MOTHERS

At the First Sign of Disfiguring Humors Is to Use Cuticura.

Every child born into the world with skin tendency to disfigure, disfiguring humors of the Skin and Scalp, become an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadfulness of its results. The best way to prevent and cure these humors is to let the mother be a diligent student of Cuticura Remedies, consisting of water, soap, Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, made in childhood are speedy, permanent, and economical.

Mr. Bickers protests his innocence and claims to be able to prove that he was at home two hours before the fire occurred and that the glass in the rear was broken out and the door unlocked and the store fired by someone else.

Mr. Bickers has been receiving threatening letters from some anonymous correspondent ever since last November and he will be able to show several of these letters, one of which was received Jan. 25, about ten days before the fire.

Mr. Bickers came here about two years ago to get out a special advertising edition of one of the local papers and remained and opened a shoe store a year ago in the Phoenix building. He brought with him a letter from a Baptist church in Memphis and united with the Baptist church here. He is also a member of the Knights of Pythias order. With his wife he has occupied rooms with Mr. W. A. Adcock, on Liberty street, and he claims to be able to show that he was at home by 9:20 o'clock on the night the fire occurred about 11:30.

Mrs. Bickers is a daughter of Hon. R. F. Comer, a wealthy citizen of Tompkinsville, who formerly represented Monroe county in the Legislature. Her brother, Joseph Comer, is a business man of Glasgow, Ky.

Mr. Bickers is represented by attorneys C. H. Bush and J. T. Hanberry and is demanding a speedy trial and says he is confident of acquittal.

WHO OWNS PEARL?

Court to Decide a Controversy of Interest.

Hamburg, March 13.—In the finding of a pearl in an oyster served in a restaurant entitled to it, or does it belong to the proprietor of the restaurant? The bench of the Superior Court here has taken the question under consideration. The facts as told in court are that a woman beginning her dinner at a restaurant with oysters, bit on something hard and took a pearl out of her mouth. She and her escort discussed it value, and finally before the dinner ended the latter took the pearl to the neighboring jeweler who offered $500 for it. The man refused to accept this amount and said the pearl was the property of a woman. The jeweler followed him to the restaurant and offered the woman $750, which was also declined. The conversation attracted the proprietor's attention, he inquired into the circumstances, claimed the pearl, and the woman refused to give it up to him. The proprietor of the restaurant then brought suit against her, averring that the bones of oysters and shells by traditional custom are left by customers of a restaurant, and are a source of profit to the proprietor.

IOWAN IN PUBLIC EYE

WILLIAM REPBURN ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION.

National Lawmaker, by His Efforts to Extend Power of Commerce Commission, Has Brought Himself Into the Limelight.

Des Moines.—On account of his recent efforts to obtain legislation designed to augment and extend the power of the Interstate commerce commission Representative William Peter Hepburn, of Iowa, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, is coming before the people of the United States.

Mr. Hepburn is one of the most interesting men who have made readable biography for themselves both within and outside of the national congress. For many years he has been a newspaperman and a writer, and his ready and willingness to exploit it have made him popular with newspaper men. Like the other Iowa statesmen, Senator Allison, Mr. Hepburn is a native of Allerton, having been born at Waukon, Iowa, and having been a member of the Waukon school board for eight years. When he was eleven years of age his mother and step-father removed to Iowa, which at that time had not arrived at the dignity of statehood, and William proceeded at once to grow up with the country.

The future congressman was of sturdy ancestry, and the reason for many a story about him is that he faced him as a boy pioneer was met uncomplainingly. His paternal grandfather was of Scotch-Irish extraction, that noble strain which has given so many illustrious men and women to America. One great-grandfather, who came as a boy from Ireland, settled in New England, and another in Vermont, Kentucky and Arkansas. Although he changed his residence frequently and settled in widely-separated localities, his ability sent him to the national legislature with unfailing regularity. Another great-grandfather was attending lectures is 7,774. There are only 335 divinity students in the university. The faculty of law has 2,756 students, that of medicine 1,111, and philosophy 3,572. In addition to students from every German state, the Berlin university contains 413 Russians, 130 Austrians, 102 Swiss, 81 Hungarians, 39 British, 36 Roumanians, 25 Bulgarians, 24 French, and smaller numbers from every other European country, including Turkey and Montenegro. America sends 123 students, Asiatic lands 37, Africa 8 and Australia 3.

In addition to the matriculated students 1,330 persons have received permission to attend the lectures. It is curious to note that the decline in the number of theological students is not confined to Berlin university, but is observed in every other German seat of learning. This decline has been so rapid in the last ten years as seriously to alarm the leaders of the church. Since 1885 the decrease has been nearly 50 per cent. Two reasons are given for this: First, the superior attractions offered by commerce and industry since Germany became a great manufacturing country, and, secondly, the decay of belief mainly owing to the destructive criticism of the Bible and religious dogmas by the professors of the modern liberal schools.

Cancer Cured by Blood Balm
All Skin and Blood Diseases Cured.

Mrs. M. L. Adams, Frederica, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm which actually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sore healed up perfectly. Many others have given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings, etc., have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others, Mrs. B. M. Guerne, Warrior Stand, Ala. Her nose and lip were cut off by a cancerous growth. Discharge from the eating sore. Doctors advised cutting, but failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guerne is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching hounds, scabs and scabs, bone tumors, skin ulcers, pimples, blood poison, carbuncles, scrofula, boils and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. Druggists, $1 per large bottle. Sample of Botanic Blood Balm free and prepared by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Descriptive article and special medical advice sent in sealed letter. It is certainly worth while investigating such remarkable remedy, as Blood Balm cures the most awful, worst and most deep-seated blood diseases.

Know they cure backache, cure every kidney ill? If you don't some Hopkinsville people do. Read it of it:

Mrs. W. L. Johnson, of 515 Jessup avenue says: "My husband suffered for several years with kidney complaint, which made its presence known by a most severe aching in his back, and which became so bad, especially in the morning, that he was obliged to do considerable stooping or lifting that he could scarcely move about.
It occurred to him while reading an advertisement in our local papers about Doan's Kidney Pills that he might just as well give himself some relief and acting on the thought he went to Thomas & Tra-hern's drug store and got a box.
The treatment proved the merits of the remedy. The aches and pains were relieved and the other symptoms disappeared. I have had many opportunities to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, and am confident that in every case they do all that is represented for them."

ALL SERENE FROM ACTION. AT GUTHRIE.

Executive Committee Wisely Puts all Markets on Same Footing.

CONCILIATORY SPIRIT.

All Day Session Held and Situation is Thoroughly
Discussed and Harmonious Outcome.

The committee of business men who went to Guthrie Friday to confer with Col. Ewing and the Executive committee, succeeded in getting the rules governing the sale of Association tobacco changed and made entirely satisfactory.

Those who went were:
R. E. Cooper, C. F. Jarrett, M. C. Forber, J. E. McPherson, G. C. Long, W. H. Jesup, E. M. Flack and James West.

The following resolution was adopted:

That whereas:
"It is the purpose of the Dark Tobacco Association to give equal recognition to the four regular established markets, viz: Clarksville, Hopkinsville, Mayfield and Paducah.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the types of all tobacco belonging to members of the association, when taken from prized hogheads that are contiguous to regular or established markets, the same to be stored and kept for final sale at those several markets, subject to the inspection and grading of the salesmen of the Dark Tobacco Association, and to be sold by said salesmen or his designated representative, but the sale and settlement must be made at the market to which the tobacco naturally belongs, or where it is stamped and stored.

"By this we do not wish to detract from the individual owner of said tobacco the right to exercise his own judgment and to ship to any of the above named markets his crop when prized for storage and sale, at his own discretion."

HANCOCK COUNTY

Thoroughly Aroused In the Anti-Trust Movement.

Hawesville, Ky., March 13.—With possibly one exception, the rally of the American Society of Equity Saturday was the most memorable demonstration ever made in Hancock county. That exception if such it was, was the occasion of the visit of William J. Bryan to this city during campaign of 1900. Hawesville awakened to-day to the realization, as never before, that Hancock county is solidly organized by the promoters of the equity plan. The crowd from the county in the city was conservatively from 1,293 to 1,500, and the latter figure is the top notch given for the crowd here when Bryan spoke.

The drift of conversation here today demonstrated that Hancock county farmers are standing together on the tobacco question in almost solid rank. Very little of the tobacco has been taken from the barns, but it is rapidly being prepared. Everyone seems determined to stand by the Equity society and wait for the Lynchburg prices, and so far the breakers in the forces have been few.

WHAT EWING SAYS.

Buyers are Ready as Soon as Tobacco is Prized.

Elkton, Ky., March 11. Executive Chairman Ewing, of the Dark Tobacco Planters' Association, says 70,000,000 pounds have been already pledged, and he has propositions from money centers to take it as soon as ready for the market. Rally meetings were held in the interest of planters last night, and today at Elkton.

VERDICT IS LOOKED FOR TO-DAY.

Meriwether's Defense a General Denial of Everything.

NO ALIBI PROVEN.

Moseley Sticks to His Story That Meriwether Did the Killing.

Two changes were made in the jury to try Frank Meriwether after it was made up as reported in Saturday's Kentuckian. The jury is as follows:

James Cooper, I. H. Wicks, R. S.
Cain, J. W. Stiller, C. H. King, B. P.
F. Blakely, R. E. Hill, A. E. Word,
E. F. Blakely, Frank P. Graves, J. W.
Cavanaugh, F. M. Boyd.

The same witness who testified against the others were introduced by the prosecution, except that Chas.
Finch, since his own conviction, refused to testify against Meriwether.
Ed Moseley repeated his story and stated positively that Meriwether was the man who struck the fatal blow with the axe handle.

Meriwether's defense was a general denial, though he made no attempt to prove an alibi. He said he was not with the men who killed the stranger, had no knowledge of the crime in any way and did not even hear of it until three days after it occurred. He swore he was at home all that night with his wife and child. He says he was in Pembroke Saturday preceding the killing but saw none of the men accused.
He said he got the blood on his clothing while hunting rabbits a few days before. His denials were so sweeping that he overdid the thing, and produced no evidence to corroborate his own story.

The case was argued yesterday by Robt. Lander for the defense and Judge Breathitt for the commonwealth and submitted to the jury at noon.

Other Cases.

Tom Murray vs. L. & N. railroad company, dismissed and stricken from docket. The action of Monroe Dulin against the same company was also stricken.

In the case of Will Payne, indicted for obtaining money, etc., the indictment was ordered dismissed at the September term, with leave to resubmit at the February term, which was done, and the grand jury by its foreman returned the paper in open court, endorsed,
"examined, no evidence found, B.
C. Foster, foreman." The prosecution was then dismissed.

The case against Mack Hern, who is charged with murder,
was called yesterday and stricken from the docket. The work of impaneling a jury was begun. Hern shot and killed his father, J. J. Hern, here on the night of May 4 last. The trial will likely consume several days.
